

NSPRA's Emerging Leaders Award recognizes up to seven individuals (one from each of NSPRA's seven regions) who have no more than five years of professional experience working in school public relations, school communications or school marketing for demonstrating excellence and leadership in their school communications work.

To be eligible for nomination, the individual must:

- Have no more than five years of professional experience working in school public relations, school communications or school marketing;
- Have been a Professional or Professional Partner member of NSPRA for at least one year at the time of nomination; and
- Be active and involved in their state or regional SPRA chapter if one exists or in NSPRA.

Nominations may be submitted by members and non-members on behalf of an individual.

On the following page of the submission form, you will be asked to provide the following:

- A statement in 500 words or less about how the nominee demonstrates excellence and leadership.
- A statement in 500 words or less about how the nominee stays active and involved with NSPRA, their state/regional SPRA chapter and/or other professional organizations.
- A statement in 500 words or less about how the nominee demonstrates innovation, creativity and other forward-thinking skills in their work.
- A synopsis in 500 words or less of the nominee's achievements and accomplishments.

Additional materials to support a nomination (including a resume or CV) are optional; however, one or more letters of recommendation are strongly encouraged.
