

Teachers are the heart of the school district and too often they are underappreciated. We asked seniors to write letters to their favorite JCPS teachers to show them the impact they had on their lives. Students love doing this and teachers, principals, and school staff are always moved to tears when students come and read the letters to their favorite teachers. We share this video on all of our social media platforms, in our newsletters, and at a Board meeting. This reminds people that great things happen every day inside every school and that teachers make a lasting impact on their students.
