

The duPont Manual High School boys' basketball team competed for the Louisville Invitational Tournament title as well as for their teammate, senior Davis Randle. Randle is battling cancer. While his treatments are keeping him off the court, they're not keeping him from the game he loves. This story not only inspired our students and student-athletes but it brought the school community together, rallying around Davis.