

The video is being used on district social media and the school website to celebrate the school's 30th anniversary.