

Cherokee County School District high school students have increased their success in college-level courses, earning international honors for their schools. CCSD students raised their overall Advanced Placement (AP) exam average score to 3.6, up from 3.4, this past spring, according to a new report from the College Board, while also increasing participation, with 6,955 exams completed, up from 6,091. Eighty-two percent of CCSD's exam scores were a 3 or higher – the highest pass rate ever for the school district, up from 78%. The total value of the college tuition CCSD students will avoid paying due to this success, assuming each exam equals just one college course, is estimated at $6.1 million, up from $4.6 million. This infographic accompanied our scores announcement on our website and social media and was shared with local media for their use.