

Developed an updated marketing postcard for the school to utilize with prospective families. Worked with the school to create a vision statement, values, and unique value propositions based on staff and parent feedback. This specific postcard was one aspect of implementing that new language into front-facing marketing materials for the school.