

We are opening two new campuses this year in Leander and Georgetown, Texas. As part of the marketing, I created this design for a print ad for Community Impact. This design was also used in the Leander Community Impact and was eventually transformed into a mailer. With its eye-catching design, there was an uptick in website visits and design accolades from the publisher.