

In every student's life, there's one teacher who makes a lasting impact—someone who sparks curiosity, provides guidance and opens a world of possibilities to a brighter future. At GCS, we provide students with the opportunity to explore what it's like to be that person through our Teacher Cadet program. For more than a decade, students have paired up with veteran teachers to experience leading a classroom. Over the last two years, we've promoted this program through our graduation media briefing by offering early teaching graduates to all cadets, and we've seen an exponential increase in the number of students enrolling in the course. This video provides a year-long reference for students and families interested in signing up by highlighting current students and teachers who have gone through the program. We also use it as a recruiting tool for potential employees.
